Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of claims 17-21 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Simhambhatla. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 1 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,602,224. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it is clear that all the elements of claim 1 is to be found in claims 1,12. The difference between claim 1 of the application and claims 1,12 of the patent lies in the fact that the patent claims include many more elements and are thus much more specific. Thus, the invention of claims 1 and 12 is in effect a "species" of the "generic" invention of claim 1. It has been held that the generic invention is "anticipated" by the "species". See In re Goodman, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Since claim 1, is anticipated by claims 1 and 12 of the patent, it is not patentably distinct from claim 1 and 12.

Art Unit: 3732

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3, 8, 10-15, 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Simhambhatla (6,602,224).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

With respect to claims 1, 3, 8, 10-15, 20, Simhambhatla discloses an intraluminal catheter (10) comprising an elongated shaft (14) having a proximal end, a distal end, and an inner lumen (22) extending therethrough, as best seen in FIG.1, the shaft including expanded UHMWPE, wherein the expanded UHMWPE is microporous and has node and fibril microstructure comprising nodes interconnected by fibrils; as set forth in column 2, lines 40-49, column 5, lines 50-67, column 6, lines 1-16, columns 7-10, lines 1-67, column 11, lines 1-14.

With respect to claims 17-19, Simhambhatla discloses the method for manufacturing an intraluminal catheter with an inner liner including expanded UHMWPE; as set forth in columns 7-10, lines 1-67, column 11, lines 1-14.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4,5,6,7,9,16, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Simhambhatla (6,602,224).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(I)(1) and § 706.02(I)(2).

With respect to the above claims it is noted that reference did not teach of an inner liner having thickness and a porosity, as claimed by applicant. However, applicant fails to establish the criticality of such dimensions and absent from any conclusive statements concerning unexpected or unobvious results obtained from applicant's dimensions or percentage, the examiner believes that any dimensions or percentage could have been used since the device would have performed equally as well with any given dimensions or percentages.

Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Simhambhatla (6,602,224) in view of Aoyama et al (4,876,049).

With respect to claim 21, it is noted that Simhambhatla did not teach of reinforcing structure including at least one winding material selected from polyester; as claimed by applicant. However, in a similar art, Aoyama et al evidence the use of a device having a reinforcing structure including at least one winding material selected from polyester, to give a necessary thickness to the finished articles for high stiffness, excellent wear resistant and low frictional properties.

Therefore, given the teaching of Aoyama et al., it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the reinforcing structure, as taught by Aoyama et al in the device of Simhambhatla to give a necessary thickness to the finished articles for high stiffness, excellent wear resistant and low frictional properties.

Response to Amendment

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim1, 3-21, have been considered but are moot in view of this new rejection.

Conclusion

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action.
